Tokyo Spurns Manchurian Peace Proposal

TERMS NOT ACCEPTABLE, LEAGUE TOLD

New Clash Disclosed When Council Rejects Renewed Protest by Japan Against United States Participation

Associated Press

STORY, Oct. 18—The official Japanese cables today said the League of Nations Council's terms for settlement of the Manchurian dispute with China were "entirely unacceptable" to the Tokyo government.

The Council asks that Japan give assurances of evacuation of the contested areas will be completed within three weeks and that China and Japan begin negotiations to settle the Manchurian's recommendations as called to Tokyo by Kuroki Yoshitawa, Japan's spokesman at Geneva.

Japan's Foreign Ministry said:

"The dream of the administration have been made realize if we had known how to go about it."

There is, Mare, only one kind of matter, that the League's terms are not acceptable.

As far as the United States is concerned, the terms are
not acceptable.

A Foreign office spokesman communicated on the League's terms, said:

PROPOSAL CONSIDERED

The cables this morning considered the League's terms for settlement of the Manchurian dispute with China and found them unacceptable.

Japan's spokesman as the League's terms have been informed previously any such conditions would be unacceptable.

THOMAS FOES CRY TRAITOR AT LIVERPOOL

Secretary for Dominions
Downed by Hos-

Associated Press

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Oct. 19.—H.

on. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions and Colonies in the National government, yesterday was handed down when he attempted to speak to a crowd of 2,000 at the Hall of Science.

He made the subject part of the requested speech, and the crowd, who had been told he would speak, gave him a standing ovation.

He was then asked to speak.

The decision was due to a wide industry strike growing out of oversight of the government.

Thomas, who is a National-Labor candidate at Evertton in the British general election campaign, came as a straight Labor man.

As soon as Thomas stood up to speak, there was pandemonium.

Trade unionists, who are among the English, hurled at him by women and men, who were shouting,

"Traitor! Traitor!"

Thomas waited for silence in vain.

Neither would the audience listen to him.

When the opportunity afforded, just before Grimes was to depart, he was surrounded by a crowd of 2,000

WHEN DEBTORS CANNOT PAY
Washington, despatches tell us, "sees no alternative" to the scaling down of Europe's debts to the United States.

Seeing that the United States has already gathered in half the world's gold supply and that France is holding its own, the United States cannot hope to get more gold to pay reparations, while Britain has frankly stated that it can't, and won't settle in gold; thus misgivings as to the collectability of the debts is understandable to the point of being evitable.

If President Hoover can hitch onto the scaling down a provision that Europe's debts are to be scaled down, the United States will get some compensation for the debt reduction in being able to cut down its own military and naval budgets, and still have compensation through the reversal of the overhead load. But, whether this concession can or cannot be exacted, the fact remains that gold cannot be got where it does not exist.

WASHINGTON GIVES A LEAD

Despite Japan's protest, the Council of the League of Nations invited the United States to join it in trying to arrange a settlement of the Manchurian tangle. Tokyo noted that its quarrel with China had precluded a "private fight," and settled according to its own plans, this is ruled out.

The action taken at Geneva is formal notice to the world that the League is intent on taking steps to give attention to the matter. The Council seemingly was not disposed to take that stand. But Washington a week ago forced its hand by failing to know what was going on in the Orient.

The Council could not let itself be outdone, in the matter of preserving peace, by a country outside the League. Hence Washington was asked to join with the League, in order to remain independent of the League. The inference is that if the United States had not demanded a show-down, the Council would have allowed more time.

Washington is now to arrange an amicable settlement, the credit for having taken the initiative will rest with Washington, not with Geneva. The Hudson Bay railway, the Canadian Pacific, and the construction gauge have been on the job about two months.

The city council proposes to alter the charter to the effect that a commissioner be discharged by the city if he is unable to do his work.

courts, municipal, provincial and federal, as defined in the British North America Act, must not be violated."

It seems unfortunate, and also strange, that so able a lawyer as Mr. Bennett should not have known this a year and a half ago. In the event, it has remained for a medical man to interpret the law for him or on his behalf.

The British North America Act has not been changed in the meantime, but Mr. Bennett has changed in his position. Then he was appealing for their support, on the ground that he would see what they got, whatever the provinces and municipalities might do. Now he is explaining through Dr. Stanley that federal assistance can only be extended through the provincial and municipal governments and councils.

The Mackenzie King Government was condemned with enthusiasm and without measure by Mr. Bennett for asserting the principle which Dr. Stanley now quite correctly says is embodied in the British North America Act. The Dr. Stanley now knows the law better now than Mr. Bennett knew it a year ago last June is not at all likely.

FARMER BROWN'S BOY DIGS

In the middle of the summer, on a hot day, Farmer Brown's boy dug his shovel and down in one corner of the garden started to dig. It was a garden that had been planted, because right in that particular place, there was a small, rather wretched, wild rose bush growing. It was a good place to make the pit which he had planned, so he had up his mind to do it. A pit, you know, is a hole straight down in the ground.

First he Marked Off a Big Circle, Then He Dug and Out, Out.

And this was a good place for a pit, because it was out of the way, a place of no use for any other purpose, and the only plants growing there were the ones that he had planted.

You see, Farmer Brown's boy was going to dig a pit. What Farmer Brown calls a compost pit. You all know that the little plants that grow in the earth, if the earth has no food in it, plants cannot grow any more, and when the plants cannot grow, then the earth, which the plants need, and which the plants need, is not good, and the earth is largely composed of very fine particles of vegetable matter which has rotted away, and which the plants need, and soil makes it black and what you find pure sand is there is none of that matter mixed with it, and that is what Farmer Brown means.

Now in this pit which Farmer Brown's boy had dug, he had to dig a mound to help Old Mother Nature make a lot of this food for the plants that he had planted, and the plants of his garden grow. In this pit when it was finished he would from time to time add to the mound, which he had made up, and what

Milady Beautiful

By LOIS LEEDS

BEAUTY FOR TIRED EYES
Modern fashion is not particularly kind to the human eyes, the mannered, coquettish, and pretentious little protection from wind, dust and sunlight. As a consequence, premature eye wrinkles are often seen on women who are young. Eyes become tired from squatting in the sun, and the body's natural reflexes become fatigued from staring at the sun. Eyes lose beauty. Eye fatigue affects the whole body, too, and this is one reason why long-distance train journeys are tiring. White roads and sunbaked fields are hard on the eyes. From forty to sixty miles an hour put a strain on the visual organs that a
